

91 Montecillo 2001 Gran Reserva (Rioja); $27. If you like a traditionally styled Rioja then this will be highly appealing. Aromas of dill, tobacco and dried fruits are enticing, while the palate veers toward subtle fruits, more tobacco and finely intertwined acidity. This is a wonderful wine from an excellent vintage, thus there's absolutely no reason why it shouldn't age gracefully for another decade. Imported by W.J. Deutsch & Sons, Ltd. Cellar Selection.
